Math

It's Review Time!

- If you need practice counting—
Count to 100 four times.
Record how high you count
each time.
- If you need practice with shapes... Find 4 flat shapes and 4 3D shapes around your house. Draw the shape and write its name.
- If you need a challenge! Count by 10's to 200. Write how you counted (10, 20, 30, 40... up to 200)

Unit of Study

They will complete this portion of homework on a separate piece of paper so that they can put it in their Shark Notes Folder at school.

This week log on and find the online reader of the shark they chose (you will find this list on the blog). Investigation is not limited to only this site, but it is great and kid friendly.

How to get started: Log on. Click Animals. Click Fish. Click Sharks. Find your child's specific shark. Fill out the attached Life Cycle sheet. Turn this in separately (do not staple with the other homework pages).

Name: _____

Please keep it separate so that we can easily put it in their Shark Folders.

Name: _____

Name of shark: _____

Life Cycle

About how many years does your shark live for?

How many pups does can your shark have? Does your shark lay eggs or give live birth?
